

I am very concerned about the possibility of interference preventing my listening to HF radio. I live across the street from a shopping center. My property is bounded on 2 sides by powerlines. On many evenings it is impossible to listen to shortwave broadcasts due to the high level of interference present from the "normal" operation of these powerlines. An increase such as would probably result from added BPL RF on these lines would make my hobby entirely impossible.